NOTHING IS WASTED THERE

People of Haiti Treasure Packing Boxes and Above All, Tin Cans.

Haiti is one country where almost everything is utilized, particularly if the substance be wood or tin. Lumber is $60 per thousand, and any substitute for it is eagerly welcomed.

For instance, a partition fence belonging to some well-to-do people on a prominent street is made of the tops, bottoms and sides of packing boxes that contained cans of condensed milk; two doors farther on is a fence made of old barrel staves; and a combination of barrel staves and packing-box strips for fencing is by no means uncommon.

Tin cans, with the solder melted off and the tops and bottoms removed, are flattened out and used as shingles, in mending fences, patching holes, and for numerous other purposes.

The five-gallon oil cans, however, are prized and cherished family possessions. These cans have a regular market value of 15 to 20 cents gold. It is no unusual occurrence for a woman to buy a five gallon can of kerosene, hoist it to her head, and tramp all day peddling the oil in small quantities—at cost, if she can do no better—just for the sake of obtaining the tin.

These receptacles are used for carrying water, boiling clothes and storing and cooking food.

The tins in which five pounds of lard come have a value of 10 cents gold, and are a standard measure, known locally as a "mamite." They are used as a dry measure generally for corn, beans, salt and the like.

Even the square tins in which matches are shipped are sold at 5 to 10 cents each.

An old bachelor says that the vocalization at a wedding is even more depressing than the singing at a funeral.

SALARY CUT IN FALL

Managers Contemplate Reduction in Players' Stipends.

Baseball Magnates Agitated Over Result Likely to Follow When Wages Are Reduced—Most of Trouble Be From Mouth.

One of the many questions agitating the baseball powers that be is this: Is there going to be any serious trouble when the salary cutting season opens in the fall?

Usually the pleasant autumnal months have merely ushered in the salary boosting time. Particularly was this true when the Federal league was in its heyday, picking all the peaches from the O. B. bough that weren't glued fast with higher salary cement. The winds that blew across the orchard naturally boosted the total in the old pay envelope. But now that the wind of competition is stilled—ah, me! these coming days are likely indeed to be "the saddest of the year."

But what will happen when the pruning knife is taken in hand and the farmers set in to work? If, as is reported, salaries are really to go on the toboggan, there's bound to be trouble. Of course, most of the trouble will be of the mouth variety. The "foot" may be added to the "mouth" disease, in some instances. Where there is any doubt of the actual, real value of a player as a drawing card, he may find himself in the discard if he raises too big a howl.

It is said that the players are up to the minute prepared. From time to time the members of the various clubs have been meeting as the schedule has brought them to New York, and meeting not only themselves but the managers of their own mutual protection band. Just how many meetings there have been behind the mysteriously locked doors I don't know, nor do I know how far any association has been formed and plans laid.

CLASSY RIGHT-HAND PITCHER

Fred Toney of Cincinnati is Ranked With Alexander—Performing in Clever Fashion.

In Fred Toney, Manager Mathewson of Cincinnati, has one of the classiest right-handed pitchers in baseball, a man who ranks with Alexander in effectiveness, and who will give the Quaker star a run for pitching honors in all likelihood this season. Toney is a Southerner, having been born in Nashville, Tenn., 26 years ago. He first began pitching regularly in 1900 with an amateur team known as the Free Silver Sluggers, in Nashville, and lost but two games all year. The following season he played semi-professionally in Nashville, winning 26 out of 31 games. In 1908 he played for a time with the Bowling Green

Fred Toney.

(Ky.) team, and in mid-season received a tryout with the Winchester club of the Blue Grass league. He made good and the following year was the star of the league, though he didn't advance. In 1909 he made such a sensational record that the Philadelphia Nationals obtained him and took him up at the close of the year. He was shifted to Chicago, where he played the following year, and after a couple of seasons figured in another swap, this time to the Reds, with whom he is now performing in brilliant fashion.

PROVIDENCE HAD STAR TEAM

Won Twenty Consecutive Games in 1884—Charley Radbourne Pitched in Eighteen Contests.

The Providence team of 1884 won 20 straight games, beating the recent winning streak of the Giants by three games. Charley Radbourne pitched in 18 of the 29 contests. The Providence club that season numbered, in addition to the mighty Radbourne, such players as Bancroft, Lovett, Farrell, Start, Daily, Irwin, Crane, Radford, Murray, Carroll, Denny, Bassett and Gilligan. The Chicago club that was overthrown four times in the Providence sweep had such stars as Anson, Pfeffer, Williamson, Burns, Dalrymple, Kelly, Gore, Billy Sunday and Silver Flint—a wonderful organization.

MAKING DELIBERATE USE OF BEAN BALL

OPPONENTS OF UNFAIR DELIVERY.

Charges that pitchers are making deliberate use of the bean ball are flying thick and fast in the American league. In the opinion of the majority it is high time that the solons of baseball took a decided stand in this matter and promulgate a ruling by which power was vested in the umpire-in-chief to discriminate between a fast ball that broke sharply at a batter and the deliberate use of the bean ball to drive a dangerous man back from the plate, says a writer in an exchange. A pitcher declared guilty of the use of this unfair, if not illegal, delivery should be fined and suspended.

To be sure, in the majority of cases the hitting of a batsman is due to accident, but just so long as one pitcher is accused of making use of such un-sportsmanlike tactics the batters should be protected. Imagine a man like Walter Johnson, Jeff Tesreau, Grover Alexander or Jeff Pfeffer, the Brooklyn giant, standing up on the mound and deliberately trying to shoot his fast one at a batter's head.

Roy Corhan, now with the Cardinals, was hit on the head with a pitched ball and has been gun shy ever since. He was forced to take a short trip to the minor leagues because of his timidity at the plate. Walter Johnson almost killed Jack Martin on the old American league grounds several years ago. Roger Bresnahan was hit and almost killed, but he was an exceptional man, with rare physical courage. When he recovered he plunged right back into the game as if nothing had happened. But many a good man has been driven out of the game by being hit. Some have been permanently injured.

John Kinley Tener, president of the National league, is bitterly opposed to the use of the bean ball and would gladly do his part in rulling it right out of the game.

PASSING OF CHARLEY DOOLIN

Despite His Light Weight, He Caught Wonderful Game of Ball—Most Accurate in Throwing.

The passing of Charley Doolin to the minors marks the retirement of another veteran from the big show.

Charley Doolin.

Doolin started playing ball 18 years ago. Doolin was the smallest of all the Major league catchers. When he broke into the big show he weighed 128 pounds, and today tips the scales at about 150. Nevertheless, he caught a wonderful game of ball, and was noted for his accurate throwing to second. Doolin is well fixed financially, being a shrewd investor.

FUTURE STARS ARE INVITED

About 10,000 Amateurs Expected to Visit Forbes Field as Club's Guests Aug. 27.

Ten thousand amateur baseball players of the Pittsburgh district are invited to be guests of the Pittsburgh baseball club at Forbes Field on Tuesday afternoon, August 29.

It will be amateur baseball day and the future greats will pay tribute to Manager Jimmy Callahan and his players. The arrangements were made through the local branch of the Pittsburgh Amateur Baseball association, which includes practically every amateur ball player in the Pittsburgh district.

The day will be known as "Pittsburgh Amateur Day," and a special section of the big stands at Forbes Field will be set aside for the use of the amateurs.

The amateurs will have their turn on Forbes Field and the details of the program, just in infancy, promise one of the biggest baseball days the city of Pittsburgh has ever experienced.

NOTES of the DIAMOND

Reasonable maxim: "A hit in time saves the nine."

Jimmy Johnston is making good with a vengeance for the Dodgers.

Joe Jackson and Jack Ness are the only Sox players hitting over the .300 mark.

Dave Robertson of the Giants was the first National league player to get 100 hits.

Zwilling should make good for the Indians as soon as he gets used to the high altitude.

Manager Griffith of Washington has decided to make an outfielder out of Pitcher Sam Rice.

When the thermometer is flaring with the 98 mark, ball players are in favor of compulsory bathing.

Roger Peckinpugh does not hit as often as some of the other Yanks, but his blows are usually timely.

The big question in Cincinnati right now is: Will Matty be able to make good where Herzog failed?

If Larry Doyle is going to do any leading of the National league swatters this year he will have to get busy pretty soon.

Philadelphia still has strong hopes that the next world's series will be played at the Bellvue-Stratford and the Waldorf.

As it looks so far, the only president in the National league who hasn't a chance for the pennant is John K. Tener.

Hughie High, according to Bill Donovan, is one of the best defensive outfielders in the major leagues and he's hitting .250.

It might be said that sometimes a manager makes an addition to his team, and when it is too late find's out it was a subtraction.

Struggling along with a tall-end outfit, Jacobson, the Rochester gardener, is showing the way in International league batting.

Manager Jones of the Browns tells us that the Red Sox will not repeat this year, but falls to state in which direction the Browns are headed.

According to a published box score, the line-up of the New London Eastern league team contains such names as M'rhelia, R'drig'z and Whie'ke's.

Manager McGraw of the Giants now admits that the Robins are a dangerous flock of birds, but adds that the admission is made in the hope that it may prove a jinx to the Brooklyn speeders.

WHY WOMEN WRITE LETTERS

To Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co.

Women who are well often ask "Are the letters which the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. are continually publishing, genuine?" "Are they truthful?" "Why do women write such letters?"

In answer we say that never have we published a fictitious letter or name. Never, knowingly, have we published an untruthful letter, or one without the full and written consent of the woman who wrote it.

The reason that thousands of women from all parts of the country write such grateful letters to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. is that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and happiness into their lives, once burdened with pain and suffering. It has relieved women from some of the worst forms of female ills, from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, nervousness, weakness, stomach troubles and from the blues.

It is impossible for any woman who is well and who has never suffered to realize how these poor, suffering women feel when restored to health; their keen desire to help other women who are suffering as they did.

Naturally. "How is Jerry getting on in the pickle-bottling business?" "Says he's having a corking good time."
